REPORT ON ANTI RAGGING WEEK

Anti-Ragging Documentary Presentation at Al Azhar Dental College

Introduction: Good [morning/afternoon/evening], esteemed faculty members, colleagues, and fellow students. Today, I am pleased to share with you a brief overview of the impactful Anti-Ragging Documentary Presentation that took place at Al Azhar Dental College as part of the Anti-Ragging Week on August 17, 2023.

Event Overview: On August 17th, 2023, a thought-provoking Anti-Ragging Documentary Presentation was organized at Al Azhar Dental College in Thodupuzha. This event marked our collective commitment to foster a safe and inclusive educational environment that is free from any form of harassment or intimidation.

Participation: A total of 73 students and house surgeons actively participated in this event. The impressive turnout reflects our shared determination to create awareness and address the critical issue of ragging in our educational institution.

Documentary Screening: During the event, an impactful documentary on anti-ragging was screened. This documentary was thoughtfully crafted to shed light on the negative consequences of ragging and the importance of eradicating this harmful practice from our campus. It aimed to evoke empathy, understanding, and a call to action among all members of our academic community.

Engagement and Reflection: Following the documentary screening, an interactive session allowed participants to share their thoughts, insights, and personal experiences related to ragging. This open dialogue provided a platform for introspection and discussions on how we can collectively contribute to promoting a more respectful and supportive environment within our college.

QUESTIONNAIRE TO ASSESS THE EFFECTIVENESS OF ANTI RAGGING VIDEOS

Data were collected through a structured questionnaire consisting of two parts: pre-video questions and post-video questions. The questionnaire was designed to assess participants' perceptions of anti-ragging initiatives, their understanding of ragging's consequences, willingness to intervene, and the impact of anti-ragging videos.

Procedure:

- Prior to video exposure, participants were asked a series of questions to gauge their baseline perceptions.
- Participants then viewed anti-ragging videos specifically created for the study.
- Following video exposure, participants responded to a set of questions aimed at evaluating the shift in their perceptions after watching the videos.

Survey Questions:

- Pre-Video Questions: Participants were queried about their awareness of ragging's consequences, confidence in reporting incidents, perception of ragging's impact on the learning environment, and views on whether ragging constitutes harassment and should be tolerated. They were also asked about their beliefs in the efficacy of anti-ragging initiatives.
- Post-Video Questions: Similar themes were covered in the post-video section, including improved understanding of ragging's harmful effects, willingness to intervene, influence of anti-ragging videos on their perspectives, readiness to handle ragging situations, and motivation to participate in anti-ragging efforts. The final question focused on the perceived effectiveness of the videos.

THE QUESTIONNAIRE

RESULT

The questionnaire aimed to assess the perceptions of student population regarding anti-ragging initiatives through a structured survey. The population consisted of individuals with a mean age of 22.95 years, ranging from 21 to 28 years. The gender distribution was 17.8% males and 82.2% females.

Prior to exposure to anti-ragging videos, participants were asked a series of questions. Concerning their awareness of the negative consequences of ragging, 30.1% strongly agreed and 58.9% agreed. In the context of reporting incidents of ragging, 23.3% were neutral, while 28.8% strongly agreed and 46.6% agreed. Regarding the creation of a hostile environment hindering learning due to ragging, 11% were neutral, 28.8% strongly agreed, and 49.3% agreed. The perception of ragging as a form of harassment not to be tolerated showed 16.4% neutral, 32.9% strongly agreed, and 46.6% agreed. Furthermore, respondents' attitudes toward the positive impact of anti-ragging initiatives revealed 13.7% neutral, 30.1% strongly agreed, and 47.9% agreed.

Following exposure to anti-ragging videos, participants' responses shifted. Their understanding of the harmful effects of ragging showed 30.1% strongly agreed and 64.4% agreed. The likelihood of intervening to discourage ragging was reflected in 13.7% neutral, 27.7% strongly agreed, and 27.2% agreed. Similarly, the influence of anti-ragging videos on their perspectives showed 17.8% neutral, 23.3% strongly agreed, and 57.5% agreed.

Regarding preparedness to handle ragging situations, 16.4% were neutral and strongly agreed each, while 67.1% agreed. Motivation to participate in anti-ragging efforts yielded 57.5% agreed, 27.4% strongly agreed, and 15.1% neutral responses. The final inquiry evaluated the effectiveness of anti-ragging videos in raising awareness and promoting a safe environment. Responses indicated that 1.4% each found the videos very ineffective and ineffective, 13.7% held a neutral opinion, 26% deemed them very effective, and 57.5% perceived them as effective.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, this exercise delved into the perceptions of a diverse population regarding anti-ragging initiatives, employing a comprehensive survey approach. The findings revealed that exposure to anti-ragging videos led to notable shifts in participants' attitudes and awareness levels. The majority of respondents demonstrated an increased understanding of the harmful effects of ragging, a greater likelihood to intervene and discourage such behaviour, and an enhanced readiness to address ragging situations.

Moreover, the study underscored the positive influence of anti-ragging videos on participants' perspectives and motivation to actively engage in anti-ragging efforts. The effectiveness of these videos in raising awareness and fostering a secure environment was evidenced by a significant percentage of participants perceiving them as effective or very effective.

This research contributes valuable insights into the potential impact of multimedia interventions in the realm of anti-ragging initiatives. The outcomes highlight the need for continued efforts to promote awareness, empowerment, and participation in combating ragging within educational settings. Ultimately, the study's results offer a foundation for refining anti-ragging strategies and advancing the creation of safer and more inclusive learning environments.

Report: Lecture on Kerala Prohibition of Ragging Act, 1998

Date: August 18, 2023

Organized by: Department of Public Health Dentistry, Al Azhar Dental College

The Department of Public Health Dentistry at Al Azhar Dental College organized an informative and enlightening lecture on the "Kerala Prohibition of Ragging Act, 1998." The lecture took place on August 18, 2023, and aimed to raise awareness about the legal provisions in place to prevent and combat ragging within educational institutions.

Event Details: The lecture was held in the auditorium of Al Azhar Dental College and was attended by faculty members, students, and staff. The program was designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of the legal framework against ragging in educational institutions, with a special focus on the Kerala Prohibition of Ragging Act, 1998.

Welcome Address: The event commenced with a warm welcome address by Dr. Prijitha Alex, the Head of the Department of Public Health Dentistry. Dr. Alex highlighted the importance of promoting a safe and respectful environment within the institution and emphasized the role of legal measures in achieving this goal.

Lecture Presenter: Advocate Saranya P.B, Assistant Professor at Al Azhar Dental College, conducted the lecture. She is well-versed in legal matters and brought her expertise to elucidate the intricacies of the Kerala Prohibition of Ragging Act, 1998. With her insightful presentation, Adv. Saranya shed light on the provisions of the Act, the penalties for ragging, and the steps that both institutions and individuals can take to prevent and address ragging incidents.

Key Takeaways: Adv. Saranya's lecture covered various aspects of the Act, including:

- Definitions and forms of ragging
- Legal consequences for engaging in or abetting ragging
- Obligations of educational institutions to prevent ragging
- Reporting mechanisms for ragging incidents
- Support systems for victims of ragging

Vote of Thanks: The session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Bharath Sekhar Nayanar, Assistant Professor in the Department of Public Health Dentistry. Dr. Nayanar expressed gratitude to Adv. Saranya for her insightful lecture and to all attendees for their active participation. He highlighted the importance of continuous efforts to create a positive and safe campus environment.

Conclusion: The lecture on the Kerala Prohibition of Ragging Act, 1998, organized by the Department of Public Health Dentistry, served as a platform to educate and sensitize the academic community about the legal provisions in place to combat ragging. The event reinforced the commitment of Al Azhar Dental College to maintaining a campus that is free from any form of harassment and intimidation, ensuring the holistic growth and development of its students.

Report: E-Poster Competition as Part of Anti-Ragging Week

An engaging and creative E-Poster Competition was organized at Al Azhar Dental College as a part of the Anti-Ragging Week activities. The event aimed to raise awareness about the significance of eradicating ragging and fostering a safe and inclusive environment within the institution.

Event Details: The E-Poster Competition provided a platform for students to showcase their artistic and messaging skills in addressing the critical issue of ragging. The competition encouraged participants to design digital posters that effectively conveyed the importance of preventing and reporting ragging incidents, as well as promoting a culture of respect and support.

Participation: The competition witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various academic years. The participants demonstrated their commitment to creating a harmonious and respectful academic environment, free from any form of harassment.

Winners Announcement: After a thorough evaluation of the submitted e-posters by a panel of judges, three outstanding entries were selected for recognition.

Themes and Creativity: The e-posters covered a wide range of themes, including the harmful consequences of ragging, the importance of reporting incidents, and the collective responsibility to create a safe atmosphere for all. The participants showcased their creativity in using visually appealing designs and impactful messages to convey the anti-ragging message.

Recognition and Awards: They were presented with certificates of achievement and commendation for their impressive contributions to promoting awareness against ragging.

Conclusion: The E-Poster Competition during the Anti-Ragging Week at Al Azhar Dental College successfully engaged students in expressing their support for an environment free from ragging. The event not only highlighted their creativity but also reinforced their commitment to fostering a culture of mutual respect and responsibility within the institution. Such initiatives play a vital role in nurturing a safe and inclusive learning space for all members of the academic community.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion, the series of programs conducted during the Anti-Ragging Week at Al Azhar Dental College collectively underscore our unwavering commitment to creating a safe, respectful, and inclusive academic environment. Each event, whether it was the enlightening lecture on the Kerala Prohibition of Ragging Act, the thought-provoking Anti-Ragging Documentary Presentation, or the engaging E-Poster Competition, contributed to a comprehensive and impactful campaign against ragging.

The lecture, conducted by Adv. Saranya P.B., provided valuable insights into the legal measures in place to combat ragging, empowering us with the knowledge to prevent and address such incidents effectively. The Anti-Ragging Documentary Presentation opened our eyes to the real consequences of ragging, urging us to take a stand against this harmful practice. The E-Poster Competition allowed our students to express their creativity while spreading a powerful anti-ragging message through captivating visuals and messages.

We extend our sincere gratitude to all the participants, speakers, organizers, and sponsors who made these programs possible. Your active engagement has reinforced our commitment to creating a positive academic environment where everyone can thrive without the fear of harassment or intimidation. Let these events serve as a reminder of our shared responsibility to stand against ragging and foster an atmosphere of harmony, mutual respect, and lifelong learning.
